Z-Coil helped T'nT Hair & Spa stylists stay on their feet

Salon owners Taylor and Toni Brown had been suffering for years from foot and back problems. As stylists, their jobs demand that they stay on their feet for long hours every day.

Taylor had been through 3 MRIs, injections and had endured physical therapy sessions to treat his back.

During this time, one of his clients suggested he try Z-Coil shoes, the strange looking shoe that has helped so many live pain-free.

He took his client's advice and was instantly amazed at the way he felt.

"They helped immediately!" he said.

Taylor's wife Toni was suffering from plantar fasciitis, which made standing and walking unbearable.

The pains in her feet left her sidelined on numerous occasions, causing her to become more and more frustrated.

Since discovering Z-Coil shoes, Toni's life and overall health have changed for the better.

She's stopped taking anti-inflammatory medication for her pain and is once again able to exercise on an elliptical machine or treadmill.

She and her husband recommended Z-Coil shoes to their staff—and ten employees now wear them, including Stylist and Salon Manager Michelle Savell.

Michelle had just undergone foot surgery in January, and at age 31, was already having significant problems with her feet and walked with a limp.

"I wore heels all the time," she said. "Z-Coil shoes are the most comfortable shoes ever!"

After wearing Z-Coil shoes, Michelle says that her regular sneakers just can't add up. In only a few months, she's seen a big change in the way her feet feel.

About Z-Coil

Z-Coil's design allows its wearers to be active without pain.

The shock-absorbing heels, along with its thick and resilient cushioning at the forefoot of the shoes, greatly reduce impact.

The coil returns energy of motion to the wearer by up to 50 percent, putting that extra "spring" in each step, while the rocker bottom soles of the shoes promotes a smooth, rolling gait that gently propels the body forward.

With Z-Coil, walking can actually become a pleasure again, rather than a pain.
